Eurovision Song Contest 2016 handbook by ESC+Plus. All you need to know about the 42 participants to compete in Stockholm

ESC + PLUS

10, 12 & 14 of May 2016

After the thrilling finish in Vienna, Austria, with Måns Zelmerlöw taking the crown with his song, "Heroes", the 61st edition of the Eurovision Song Contest will be hosted this year in Stockholm, Sweden. The contest, which has been held annually since 1956 will be making the stop in Sweden for the sixth time. Member nations of the European Broadcasting Union(EBU) are given the chance to send a participant from their country to the musical contest, which has become more and more popular throughout the world. After the performances, a winning song will be lauded as the best song according to viewers and will join an elite group of winners that includes Loreen of Sweden, the bearded lady of Austria, Conchita Wurst, two-time winner and Mr. Eurovision himself, Johnny Logan, worldwide success ABBA, and even Celine Dion.

Swedish public broadcaster, SVT, will be the local organization in charge of the contest with major telecommunications company Tele2 as a lead sponsor. The three main shows will take place at the Ericsson Globe Arena and be broadcast to nearly 200 million people across the world. Three shows, occurring on the 10th, 12th, and 14th of May will make up this year's contest — Two Semi Finals, where 36 competing countries will be narrowed down to 20, moving on to the Grand Final where they will be joined by the host country and the Big 5.

- First Semi Final: May 10 (21:00 CET)
- Second Semi Final: May 12 (21:00 CET)
- Grand Final: May 14 (21:00 CET)

The Globe Arena has a 10,500 occupancy rate with its Eurovision configuration and has played venue to many popular events, include the Eurovision Song Contest once before, in 2000.

Due to their popularity, 2015's winner Zelmerlöw, will be co-hosting the show with Petra Mede, a popular Swedish host and presenter who also hosted the 2013 Eurovision Song Contest in Sweden, co-hosted Eurovision's Greatest Hits concert in London last year, and this year's Swedish National Final, Melodifestivalen. The writing duties for the event will fall to Edward Af Sillén, who wrote for the 2010 Eurovision Song Contest and several years of Melodifestivalen.

The slogan for the 61st edition of the contest is 'Come Together', promoting the ideals of unity and extolling the virtues of musical being communicative across borders and languages. Indeed the countries will come together in the logo this year, a dandelion bloom in which each seed represents the participant countries. As the contest ends, the dandelion seeds will scatter in the winds back to their homes to plant and share the love and fellowship they experienced in Sweden.

The impressive set design for the contest also comes from a veteran team of designers. Frida Arvidsson and Viktor Brattström return after creating the staging from the contest's last visit to Sweden in Malmö 2013. No less than 26 cameras will film the artistic displays of songs and visuals to the backdrop of a 15,5 x 50 x 32-metre superstage with a record-breaking nearly 2.000 square metre of LED-screens on the walls combined with just 250 square metre on the stage floor. Nearly two thousand lighting units along with almost a hundred different environmental effect units, including pyrotechnics, fog, and CO₂, and the world's largest video projector can be utilized by each country to make an impressive visual presentation alongside their songs.

One major change for this year occurs in the voting system. Under the guidance of Christer Björkman, Sweden's contest producer, the jury and public vote 50/50 split will remain, but will be presented drastically different. For the first time in history, the points given by each group will be announced separately, as opposed to being combined and aggregated into the traditional douze pointe allotment. Meaning that each country will get a set of points from the juries which will take the form of the 1-8, 10 and 12 points, which will be announced via remote call-ins from each country as usual, then the hosts will present the public votes for each country. The tallied public votes will start with the lowest scoring country and work their way to the most voted – causing a heightened sense of drama and tension as the winner will only be known at the very end nearly all situations. With the new system, a record point-scoring win will be all but assured, with the dreaded nul point finish being statistically unlikely.

In a number of earlier contests, runaway wins will usually obviously be spotted before the voting had finished, which was the main cause for the changes to the voting system this year.

What started out with a record-matching number of participants with 43, saw Bosnia & Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, and Ukraine return, while Portugal chose not to participate. Australia returned after the special 60th invitation, but will now compete through the Semi Finals opposed to starting in the Final with the host country and the Big 5. In dramatic fashion, the Romanian entrant was disqualified just three weeks prior to the contest. Ovidiu Anton was set to perform with "Moment of Silence", and had taken part in many pre-parties and press events, but the European Broadcasting Union(EBU) chose to expel the Romanian broadcaster, Televiziunea Romana (TVR), on grounds of non-payment of a debt in the excess of 16 million Swiss francs. The now 42 contestants matches the high of a number of years, the latest of which being the 2012 Azerbaijani edition.

Lyrics:

Hey it's me. Look, I know it might sound strange but suddenly I'm not the same I used to be.
It's like I've stepped out of space and time and come alive... I guess this is what it's all about cause...

When it touched me the world went silent, calm before the storm reaches me.
The ground in motion set off all sirens, you took over my heartbeat... beat... beat... beat...
It's taking over me.

You... shook my life like an earthquake now I'm waking up
You... gave me faith now I can break every single wall,
You... prove we can do it all when all is out of love,
You... (oh like a lovewave) spread a lovewave
'n my heart goes ba-ba-da-bu-who-oh-oh.

Caught in a downward spiral, I lost my soul in my dreams.
I would give up and lose all trials, when one

Without even a single warning, I'm not who I was before.
A chain reaction with no returning, now watch me craving for more.

It's taking over me.

It's taking, it's taking over me.

You... (oh like a lovewave) shook my life like an earthquake now I'm waking up,
You... (oh like a lovewave) gave me faith now I

Biography:

Like all great stories, Dami Im's life sounds a lot like a fairy tale. There's a certain amount of struggle, a determination to succeed and then the joys that success itself eventually brings. Dami was born in South Korea, she moved to Brisbane, Australia with her family when she was 9.

A classically trained pianist, she learnt how to speak English through listening to pop songs. Dami arrived in the spotlight seemingly out of nowhere in 2013, taking out the X Factor crown. Her astonishing voice and transformation into a fully-fledged pop performer won the hearts of the Australian public. More success followed as Dami earned a number one album with Dami Im and followed it with the hugely successful Top 10 release, Heart Beats and hits such as Alive, Super Love and Gladiator.

Dami, like all great singers knows how to inhabit a song and make it her own. Her choice of stage-wear may draw an audience in, but the real exchange comes when an audience hears her remarkable voice.

Trying to feel your love through face time
Symphonies of dreams and highlights

Minus One is a Greek Cypriot band that plays everything, from pop and rock classics, to today's newer hits. The band does not just play covers, but rearranges and refreshes the songs bringing them closer to the bands own sound.

Although starting as a cover band, as a side project they released original songs but with a different name. They will represent Cyprus in the 2016 Eurovision Song Contest so they started working on their own material this time not as a side project but as Minus One.

Their Eurovision song Alter Ego is the product of collaboration between the band and Thomas G:son who also handled the production. The band previously tried to represent Cyprus in 2015 where they placed third (first by the judges) in the Cypriot national selection with the song Shine.

Biography:

Gabriela Gunčíková was born on 27 June 1993 in Kroměříž, Czech Republic. She was a finalist in the second season of SuperStar and won the "New Artist" award at the 2011 Český Slavík awards.

She made two albums and played over a hundred concerts around the Czech Republic and Slovakia. In 2013 she has decided to improve her singing so she contacted one of the most famous coaches in the world, Ken Tamplin, and went to study singing in California. Gabriela has become the face of Ken Tamplin Vocal Academy, as one of the best students with a voice at the global level.

The result of their cooperation has been found by Paul O'Neill from the American band Trans-Siberian Orchestra - and that is how Gabriela has become one of the singers of this band. She performed with them on two tours and about 120 shows around the USA. Now she decided to go in the direction of her solo career.

Lyrics:

I've worn the path
 I've hit the wall
 I'm the one who rose and fall
 I've played my heart
 When I played the part
 But it got me through the rain
 I've felt the strain
 I've made mistakes
 With the monsters in my head
 But in the end
 You're standing there
 You're the one who always cares

CHORUS:
 Cause I stand
 I stand
 I am standing here
 Just because of you
 Every part of me is a part of you
 I stand

Biography:

Lighthouse X consists of three artists who have come together in a strong fellowship. They believe it is possible to create a band that thinks differently. A band that takes social responsibility through music in a new and innovative way.

Lighthouse X represents a whole-hearted attempt at making a positive difference in the world, at inspiring attentive conversations in which we truly listen to one another and in establishing dialogue that makes us open up for all the things that excite us and scare us.

The goal is to harvest the power of music to make us all talk through our hearts, to make sure we share our thoughts and to create space and respect for each other. As the name suggests, Søren, Johannes and Martin wish to be a lighthouse that others can use for navigation – by being the change that they themselves wish to see in the world, while also inspiring and supporting other people who serve as guiding lights.

Lyrics:

Tell me why we always fuel the fire, Why we tend to close our eyes
 What's the reason that we keep on hiding, We can make it if we try
 I don't know why we don't care
 There's nothing to fear when I know you are there So let's not wait for someone else to Make it right, make it right

CHORUS:

Take my hand and never let go, side by side we walk an open road
 Unbreakable, with hope in our hearts, step by step we'll make a new start
 Let's be soldiers of love, soldiers of love, soldiers of love for life

Biography:

The last twelve months have been a magical whirlwind for 21-year old Jüri Pootsmann. After singing solo for only three years, Jüri won the Estonia edition of Idol in 2015 which landed him a record deal with Universal Music. His status as Estonia's new brilliant superstar was then cemented by being voted Best Male Act at the 2015 Estonian Music Awards.

Yes, unstoppable Jüri has become the brightest and beloved young artist in Estonia with support coming from the whole nation. Jüri's deep and sultry tone lends itself to a variety of styles and he is unafraid to provide his signature bass-baritone to an array of genres from pop and soul to more modern electronic music. He recently formed his very own band and released his debut EP. For the self-confessed Eurovision fan it was a dream come true to be awarded the honour of representing his country at the Eurovision Song Contest in Stockholm.

Lyrics:

It's getting late and be that as it may
 I turn to you, I turn to you
 We might seem so obvious to me
 But not to you, not to you

We ain't got all night
 To find out what is right
 So let's go undecided till we know
 The only way to go
 Is let your feelings show
 See all your walls come down
 And just hit

Biography:

Sandhja is a Finn with roots in India. She is a singer and songwriter of urban pop. In 2014 her debut album Gold was praised by critics and included the Top 20 radio hits Hold Me and Gold. "These shoes are squeezing the essence of my root, so I choose to walk barefoot." – Sandhja "These lines from the track These Shoes on my debut album summarize how I see myself and my music. I want my music to be a source of joy and fun as well as a reflection of the deepest sorrow. I hope that when people listen to it they can forget about their worries and surrender to their feelings. I believe that vulnerability is strength. When you lower your guard you can find yourself."

Lyrics:

Please believe me when I say
There's nothing harder than the strife
When heavy waters try to break you you will be singing for life

When you feel like your world is falling down
And darkness has taken your sight
There's no need to be carrying a frown
I'll help you sing it out tonight

CHORUS:

Sing it away, never make me fade away

Since Amir was a child, he has dreamt of performing on stage and always had the ambition to become an artist. After being a dental surgeon, Amir tried his luck in the world of music and started a professional singing career.

In 2013 Amir took part in the talent TV music show The Voice where he got recognition from all four judges in the "blind auditions". The audience also voted for Amir and brought him to the final. At the same time, Amir started to write songs. His album Au coeur de moi includes themes that the singer cherishes, his spirituality, his idealism and musical influences.

J'ai cherché is Amir's first single. With his music, Amir wants his fans to hear the message that came from far away, but also from nearby to guide us to ourselves, to make us joyful, just for a moment which becomes eternity.

Lyrics:

You... you...

J'ai cherché un sens à mon existence, J'y ai laissé mon innocence J'ai fini le coeur sans défense... J'ai cherché L'amour et la reconnaissance, J'ai payé le prix du silence, Je me blesse et je recommence.

BRIDGE:

Tu m'as comme donné l'envie d'être moi
 Donné un sens à mes pourquoi
 Tu as tué la peur... qui dormait là, qui dormait là dans mes bras

Lyrics:

When I came to, your smell on me
I reached around the bed and grabbed a cigarette out of your bag

Sound of you breathing, feel of your skin brought back some memories, I never thought this all could happen to me

Biography:

This fascinating, independent and exceptional artist, whose full name is Jamie-Lee Kriewitz, doesn't take herself too seriously. She dreams of taking a trip to Korea, lives as a vegan and is an absolute fan of the Japanese Decora Kei style, as anyone can easily see in the playful, extrovert and colourful Manga looks that she wears. A style with which Jamie-Lee is already setting a trend: her eye-catching outfits have already become hot topics on social networks and no doubt all eyes will be on her in Stockholm.

Through her music, Jamie-Lee expresses her preference for the comics aesthetics from the Far East. With her pop ballad Ghost, Jamie-Lee takes us into the secret meanders of her fantasy realm. Ghost is a rather sad love song, which depicts a story that anyone can relate to.

Lyrics:

The story of us
Is it already told?
Let's tear the book apart
Start to rewrite it all
We're already gone
But still in this together
Like a dragon to his gold
We're still holding on

BRIDGE:
Our life won't wait for us to live
(We don't need a lifetime to figure out what we miss)
The love we get is the love we give (A money chest full of love, but we hid the key)

Biography:

Freddie was born in Györ, Hungary, in 1990. His dedication to music appeared quite early, as he was translating lyrics, writing poems both in English and Hungarian, but basketball also played a leading role in his life. When he had to give up his promising sports career because of a serious injury, he turned to music for comfort and took up playing the guitar.

Freddie's musical breakthrough came in 2014 after his studies as hotel management specialist, as he took part in the Hungarian edition of Rising Star. Following the TV show, his first single Mary Joe was released and became a massive hit in no time. His single was the first Hungarian one since 2011 that managed to reach number one in the Top 40 for three weeks in a row. Freddie regularly performs concerts throughout Hungary, either with a live band or as a solo singer.

Lyrics:

When you need to run away
From what other people say

You haven't received for days

Lyrics:

È la prima volta che mi capita, prima mi chiudevo in una scatola
Sempre un po' distante dalle cose della vita
Perché così profondamente non l'avevo mai sentita
E poi ho sentito un'emozione accendersi veloce
E farsi strada nel mio petto senza spegnere la voce
E non sentire più tensione solo vita dentro di me

Nessun grado di separazione
Nessun tipo di esitazione
Non c'è più nessuna divisione fra di noi Siamo una sola direzione in questo universo che si muove
Non c'è nessun grado di separazione

Davo meno spazio al cuore e più alla mente, sempre un passo indietro e l'anima in allerta

There is no degree of hesitation
There is no degree of space between us, live in love
We are stars aligned together dancing through the sky, we are shining

Nessun grado di separazione
Nessun grado di separazione in questo universo che si muove
E poi ho sentito un'emozione accendersi veloce
E farsi strada nel mio petto senza spegnere la voce

Lyrics:

I know you told so many times, so many words in different rhymes
But I don't feel the same I wasn't innocent I know, and things I did for sure were wrong
The time has passed so long

That's what I want, that's what I need Feeling again that you're breathing with me

But I never asked you to belong You're my desire and my pain, but all the

Biography:

Frans Jeppson Wall was born on December 19, 1998 in Ystad, region of Skåne in Southern Sweden. He first gained recognition during the World Cup of 2006 when he released his now famed tribute track paying homage to Zlatan Ibrahimovic, all at the tender age of seven years old. The song, named Who's Da Man swiftly became a phenomenon and Frans was soon crowned "Zlatan- Frans" with and by the Swedish people. This year, 10 years after his original homage to Zlatan, Frans is now making an explosive comeback in the Swedish Song Contest Melodifestivalen with his new track If I Were Sorry.

The track is co-written by Fredrik Andersson, Michael Saxell, Oscar Fogelström and Frans himself. The song is currently #1 on the Swedish Spotify charts, number 1 on the Swedish national single sales chart and the track has since been streamed more than 4 million times – this despite stiff competition from other strong Melodifestivalen contributions as well as world famous artists including Zayn and Rihanna.

Lyrics:

I'd crawl through the desert on my hands and knees
 Rehearsin my pretty please
 Climb the highest mountain, If I were sorry Shout it from the top
 Swim under water until my lungs exploded
 Walk into the fire, If I were sorry
 I'd run a thousand miles
 Wouldn't stop until I dropped
 Wouldn't take a break to breathe until I got close enough, Then I'd do it all again
 If I really had the chance
 But I know deep inside for you its just another dance

CHORUS:

If I were sorry, I'd give you all the glory
 If I were sorry
 If I were sorry, It would be a different story
 If I were sorry
 If I were sorry... ooohhh
 I'd hold my breath until my face turned blue
 I'd rob a bank and the post office too
 Swim across the ocean

If I were sorry, I'd take wow of silence
 I wouldn't say a single word
 Until you really Heard, If I were sorry
 I'd run a thousand miles
 Wouldn't stop until I dropped
 Wouldn't take the break to breathe
 Until I got close enough

CHORUS

Now I did you ever realize
 That your mistake had a prize
 Oh you threw it all away
 Cuz you're the devil in disguise
 Now would you ever realize
 The consequences of your lies
 And would you save the falling tear or act as if There's nothing there

If I were sorry (If I were sorry) (x2)
 If I were sorry, I'd take a vow of silence
 I wouldn't say a single word (If I were sorry)

Biography:

Tucked away in the vast hills and deep lakes near Zürich, Switzerland, and in the Canadian wilderness surrounding Vancouver, Rykka has been writing feverishly and honing her next sound. Change has been a constant for the multitalented songwriter, who started as an acoustic folk artist under her name Christina Maria before reinventing herself as Rykka and emerging with an alternative pop bang.

Her new single, The Last Of Our Kind, is a triumphant mega-ballad about standing for love at the end of the world. It was produced by Warne Livesey at Toronto's Coalition Music, and Rykka recorded the vocals in the Swiss village of Belalp. Now, after winning the Swiss national final, Rykka is honoured to represent her homeland in the 2016 Eurovision Song Contest in Stockholm.

Lyrics:

Soldier, take off your armour
Show me your heart, this is home
And it's stronger, stronger than water
Deeper than reason, longer than time

Here we are at the end of the movie
I've never felt more alive
It's time to rise

CHORUS:
We're the last of our kind
It's a whole new world
And we're facing the fire
Not afraid of our own ghosts
We're the last of our kind
And we're all that we know
And we're out of our minds
Not afraid to be brave though
We're the last of our kind

The Last Of our kind (x2)
Not afraid to be brave
We're the last of our kind

This is paradise, turn off the searchlight
We're where we belong
Standing tall at the end of the story
Watching world's collide
It's time to rise

CHORUS

Here we are now, with nothing to lose
I know without love, we won't pull through Cause deep in the night, there is a light
And it guides us to truth.

It's a whole new world
And we're facing the fire
Not afraid of our own ghosts
We're the last of our kind
and we're all that we know
And we're out of our minds
Not afraid to be brave though
We're the last of our kind

Biography:

Douwe Bob (23), was born and raised in an Amsterdam artists' family. In 2012 he was voted best singer-songwriter in the Netherlands and has become established in the Dutch music scene with the #1 album Pass It On and hits like Sweet Sunshine and Hold Me Now (duet with Anouk, 2013 Eurovision Song Contest). His music is characterised by the combination of songs rooted firmly in the 60s and 70s but at the same time, has an extremely contemporary sound. A love for music from that time was something he grew up with.

The chemistry with his band members is essential; their live performances at major national and international festivals and their recent tour of the Netherlands, have been described as formidable. Slow Down is a protest song against the demands of modern life. Douwe believes that it is necessary to sit back and look at what is really important in life.

Lyrics:

I'm going nowhere and I'm going fast
I should find a place to go and rest
I should find a place to lay my head tonight

Every morning there's another start
Every morning hits so hard
Guess I'm running scared, guess I'm running on empty

Mister can you help me
Cause it seems I've been lead astray
I keep searching for an answer for a way
Won't you help me
You gotta...

CHORUS:
Slow down brother
Slow down brother
Slow down if you can't go on
Slow down brother
Slow down brother
Slow down if you can't go on

Do you think I'll ever learn
I used to be without concern
Now all I ever do don't seem to free me

Mister can you help me
Cause it seems I've been lead astray
I keep searching for an answer today
Won't you help me
You gotta...

Lyrics:

Heartbeat, when you're not around its beating slow, and it's something that I've never known... ooohhh... I'll be, I'll be the answer you've been waiting for, I'll be the truth that you've been looking for... ooohhh

You're not alone, we're in this together, all that you want is right here forever, and they don't need to know... ooohhh... and they don't need to know

You're not alone, we're in this together, all that you want, I'm right here forever, and they don't need to know... ooohhh... and they don't need to know

You're free, free to let go cause I'll be here for you, and when you fall I'll be your parachute... ooohhh... I, I, I feel like I'm dancing in the sky, I come alive when I'm with you, I come alive when I'm with you
